

Group Communications Worksheets

©2008 Marco Ciavolino and TechBrick.

May be freely duplicated and used. May not be sold or incorporated in other publications without permission.

Group Communications Worksheets

It is essential that your team learn to speak well and clearly articulate their ideas and solutions. This series presents exercises we've used at our meetings.

What about you? Your life in a few seconds

How to use this exercise:

As simple as this is you'll find it remarkably hard, even for adults. In this exercise you ask each child to talk about themselves for 15 seconds.

At first you'll get grunts and murmurs. Keep at it for a few weeks until they are willing to stand up and tell you a clear story.

Ideally you'll have each child record the name of the speaker and take a few notes. When you're done with each round of speakers have them turn over their sheets then ask various team members to tell you about another team member. This reinforces names and builds team spirit.

Rotate the topics.

Example Topics

- Pets
- Foods
- Games
- Family members
- Favorite vacation
- Books they have read
- Movies they like
- Etc.

©2008 Marco Ciavolino and TechBrick.
May be freely duplicated and used. May not be sold or incorporated in other publications without permission.

What about you? Your life in a few seconds

Give us 15 seconds about yourself.

Name	Interests